Ban on Atomic Bombs Asked At Quemoy, Matsu

Sen. Kerr Fears Use Will Bring Attack Upon U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.) has appealed to President Eisenhower to ban the use of atomic weapons in any defense of Quemoy and Matsu. He said in a statement that the employment of other than conventional weapons in fending off any Red Chinese attack against the islands "could provoke massive retaliation against American families and American homes."

Kerr said last night he knows Eisenhower wouldn't get into a war over the islands if there was any alternative "but if he decides it must be done, I want to urge that no atomic weapons be used in doing it."

In an interview, he added: "I am afraid we are getting into the position of depending on atomic weapons because of worship of the budget by administration leaders. Congress should reverse this policy before it is too late."

Quick disagreement was expressed by other senators.

Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.) said he recognizes all of the dangers involved but thinks Kerr is "100 per cent wrong."

"In the atomic age we must adjust our military tactics," he said. "To fight a war with one arm tied behind our backs would be strangely reminiscent of what Truman did in Korea."

Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) said "we would be very foolish to withhold our most effective weapon" if the Communists attack.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said he agrees with Kerr that "conventional" arms and forces should not be cut and American reliance placed entirely on atomic weapons.

"But as long as there is no international agreement to limit weapons of this type, it becomes a matter for the President himself to decide at the time," he said. "I doubt that it is reasonable to ask the President to say ahead of time what he would decide."

3-Year Visit To South Pole Planned by Byrd

WASHINGTON (AP)—A year of construction work and another two years of scientific observations in the antarctic lie ahead for the Navy and civilian scientists.

Detailed plans were announced by the Navy yesterday for the three-year expedition which will be under general supervision of Rear-Adm. Richard E. Byrd, retired. The extent of Byrd's actual participation in the project remained uncertain.

One main observation post is to be built next year and two others, one as near the South Pole as possible, are to be constructed later. Both ships and planes will carry men and supplies to the area.

Capt. George Dufek will command a task force of five Navy ships—two ice breakers, two cargo ships and an oiler—which will set out late this year and arrive in the antarctic in January 1956.

This task force will start construction of a base camp and one snow runway, unload masses of supplies, and start back a month later. A group of 121 officers and men, including a group of specially trained Seabees, will remain there to complete this work.

The first planes will fly in October 1956, and the Seabees will set up the other two observation posts. The construction crews will be flown out then, and the civilian scientists will be flown in.

AFL, CIO Merger Finished in Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL and CIO expect to accomplish their merger before the end of the year.

AFL President George Meany and CIO President Walter Reuther said yesterday that "unity" committees have gone over a draft of a constitution for the proposed 15-million-member organization. They said they had agreed on practically their entire document but wanted to consider some items further.

Another meeting will be held May 2.

Senate May Raise U.S. Defense Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Chavez (D-NM.) said today he is certain efforts will be made in the Senate to add some money to President Eisenhower's defense budget with the aim of preventing cuts in Army and Marine strength.

Chavez, chairman of an Appropriations subcommittee considering the $5-billion-dollar military money bill, said, "I think that Gen. Ridgway is right, and his views will get full consideration."

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff, told the subcommittee late yesterday he had recommended that Army strength be maintained at 1,300,000 men during the fiscal year starting July 1.

That is 273,000 more than the figure recommended by the President. Army strength was 1,300,000 Jan. 1; it now is down to about 1,270,000.

Estimates were that it would require more than a billion dollars additional for the Army to maintain strength at the figure Ridgway recommended. Its share of the Eisenhower budget is about seven billions.

In his prepared statement, Ridgway avoided any direct dispute with the administration's orders for cutbacks. But under questioning he said: "I strongly recommended a substantially higher figure."

The reduced figure in the President's budget "was not approved by the Joint Chiefs of Staff," Ridgway said, but was determined by "our President the commander in chief" and other "competent civilian officials" who had to consider "many factors besides the military."

Small as it was in the range of A-weapons, this prototype of a nuclear air-to-air missile probably packed enough punch to wipe out an entire formation of enemy planes.

Ground-to-air missiles with nuclear warheads also are being developed, the Defense Department indicated last week. Whether any such test will be held in the current series has not been disclosed. But the firing of the 280mm. atom cannon here in 1953 undoubtedly has paved the way for smaller, longer range artillery capable of firing a nuclear shell.

"Atomic air defense weapons will greatly increase our ability to repel an enemy air attack," the Defense Department says.

Boy, 16, Charged With Homicide in Auto Crash Death

BELOIT, Wis. (AP)—A 16-year-old boy who an accident report said was driving a car—loaded with nine youngsters—at 105 miles an hour when it went out of control and killed one youth has been charged with negligent homicide.

Dist. Atty. Joseph Porrestal said Municipal Judge Arthur Luebke of Beloit, granted permission Wednesday for Richard R. Bouton, Brodhead, to be charged in open court, instead of as a juvenile.

Porrestal said he requested the permission because of the gravity of the offense. The traffic police report at the time of the March 29 accident on Highway 11, near Brodhead, said Bouton's speeding car crashed after hitting a dip in the pavement.

Fatally injured was Lawrence Sanders, 18, of Brodhead.

Fishermen Leave Grounded Vessel

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Three East German fishermen left their vessel after it grounded on a Baltic island and sought political asylum in Denmark. They will be brought to Copenhagen.

Wyoming and Montana Digging Out of Storm

Northern Alabama Pelted by Rain, Hail, High Winds

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Wyoming and Montana today began shaking themselves free of a 40-inch burden of snow expected to cause $1,200,000 in losses to livestock.

Four men were rescued and 14 other persons, including an infant, were located and reported safe late yesterday. They were the last of hundreds reported marooned or missing in the two-day blizzard which virtually paralyzed the area.

With warming weather, the states' highway departments expected today to open roads that had been clogged with 18-foot drifts.

Traffic still will not return to normal, however, because many cars abandoned by motorists under the massive drifts remain on roads throughout northeast Wyoming and southeast Montana.

William L. Chapman, Wyoming agriculture commissioner, estimated "conservatively" that losses to cattle and sheep in the blizzard-ravaged area would reach $1,200,000. He said perhaps 20,000 sheep and 8,100 cattle died.

Hundreds of other animals scattered by the blinding snow and wind are without feed, and one county agent observed: "If another storm were to hit now, it would spell disaster."

Rescued yesterday by ski planes were four men who had taken refuge in a deserted rural church 17 miles east of Sheridan.

Five persons missing since late Saturday were believed safe with the sighting by a rescue plane of a huge "OK" sign spelled out with rocks in the snow near the border town of Bayhorse, Mont.

Spring Storms In Southeast

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Early spring storms pounded areas in the Southeast states today after yesterday's damaging wind and rainstorms in Texas and other southern areas.

Northern Alabama was pelted by rain and hail with tornado winds in some areas. A tornado struck Altoona, a town of about 1,000 population north of Birmingham, causing an estimated $50,000 damage. Torrential rains fell at Birmingham and other northern Alabama towns. No serious injuries were reported.

Tornadoes and severe windstorms which hit across a 5,000-square mile area of north central Texas yesterday killed one man and injured 27 persons. Crop and property damage was estimated in the millions of dollars.

Most of the country reported fair to partly cloudy weather today. Light showers fell in most of New England and westward to the eastern Great Lakes region.

Colder air from Canada moved southward across the Great Lakes and mixed with cold air over the plains, lowering temperatures over most of the area between the Rockies and the Appalachians.

Warming continued over the area west of the Rockies and along the Eastern Seaboard.

Newsman Disagree On Carney Story

WASHINGTON (AP)—Newsman who attended a now-controversial briefing with Adm. Robert B. Carney disagreed last night as to whether the chief of naval operations had made a firm prediction of Communist attack in the Formosa Strait.

Carney told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee Tuesday he had not.

He has been named as the source of stories which appeared after a March 24 background session with a group of reporters. Some of these stories, without quoting Carney, said the Chinese Communists were expected to attack in the Quemoy-Matsu Island area in mid-April.

After Carney told the Senate group he had not made such a prediction, Robert L. Riggs wrote in a dispatch to the Louisville Courier-Journal that the admiral had so predicted at least "four times."

Riggs said he took extensive notes at the briefing, in longhand and shorthand, and he quoted Carney as saying at one point the Reds "probably will initiate an attack on Matsu in mid-April."

On the other hand, Paul R. Leach, head of the Washington bureau of the Chicago Daily News, said Carney's denial was technically correct. Leach wrote: "My quotes do not have Carney saying the Reds would make an attack on the Matsus by mid-April, but that they could be 'able' to initiate an attack, perhaps that early."

Dan Schorr, CBS radio-television commentator, said his notes confirmed fairly closely to those of Riggs. He said Carney was "wrong if he thought he didn't make a prediction."

Marquis W. Childs of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch said he did not recall "such a flat prediction." He said Carney spoke rather of a Red "buildup and capabilities."

Benjamin M. McKelway, editor of the Washington Evening Star, reported a similar impression. William H. Stringer of the Christian Science Monitor said Carney did not make a flat prediction but said "an attack can quite possibly come around the 15th of April or shortly thereafter on Matsu."

James R. Shepley of the Time-Life magazine staff said he did not understand Carney to have picked out an attack date.

Ike Earmarks $5 Million for Dust Storm Relief

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today allotted five million dollars in emergency funds to deal with dust storm damage in seven states.

The states are Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas, Nebraska and Wyoming.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary announced that the President is earmarking the five million dollars from his disaster relief fund pending congressional action on administration request for 15 million dollars to deal with windstorm damage.

The five million dollars in emergency aid would be returned to the chief executive's disaster fund if Congress approves the request for the larger amount, Hagerty said.

TOKYO (AP)—Japan has invited leaders of eight nations to visit here after the Afro-Asian conference in Bandung, Indonesia, April 18-25. Syria, also invited, has declined.

Foreign Office sources said the government sought to promote friendly relations and to increase trade. Invited were Egypt, Iraq, Lebanon, Jordan, Libya, Yemen, Saudi Arabia and Iran.

Measure Passed By Senate, 56-0 In Night Session

Obscene Literature Ban Voted; Korean Bonus Adopted

ST. PAUL (AP)—Bills calling for impounding auto license plates, stiffer control over obscene literature sales and a bonus for Korean veterans won initial approval in the Minnesota Legislature Wednesday night.

The Senate approved, 56-0, the measure which provides car license plates may be taken at discretion of the courts where drivers are caught driving after suspension or revocation of their driving permits.

Also passed by the upper house, 52-7, was the measure which makes it a misdemeanor for retailers or distributors to sell to minors books, magazines or comic books which are deemed indecent.

Now Go to House
Sens. Donald Fraser, Minneapolis, and Magnus Wefald, Hawley, argued in vain that present laws, if enforced, are entirely adequate to handle that problem.

Both the bills still require action by the House, which passed the Korean bonus measure, 110-3.

Under that bill, $15 a month would be paid for overseas service and $10 for service at home during the Korean emergency, between June 27, 1950 and July 27, 1953.

A maximum of $400 is set on the payments to any one veteran. The cost of the bonus, estimated at more than 24 million dollars, will be met from the special taxes enacted to pay the World War II bonus.

FEPC Bill Passed in House

ST. PAUL (AP)—The highly controversial fair employment practices bill, which failed to survive five previous legislatures, was passed by the Minnesota House of Representatives today after 2 1/2 hours bitter debate. The vote was 96-30.

Constitutional Bill to Governor

ST. PAUL (AP)—A bill for a constitutional amendment to rewrite the present section of the Constitution relating to courts was sent to the governor today and sent to the governor. The vote was 53 to 4.

If the governor signs the bill, the proposed amendment will go on the ballot at the 1956 general election.

Among other things, the amendment would permit the Legislature to abolish the office of justice of the peace and enlarge the Supreme Court from seven to nine members. The amendment also would make the clerk of the Supreme Court an appointee of the court instead of an elective official.

Make it a gross misdemeanor to refuse to give up a party telephone line when it was needed for an emergency call and a misdemeanor to state falsely that a line was needed for such a call.

Set a new, higher schedule of fees for services performed by sheriffs.

Two Senate bills were approved and sent to the House. One would permit cars in groups of 25 or more to enter state parks for such affairs as Sunday School picnics for 25 cents a car. The regular fee for stickers which cars must show to go into state parks is $1 per car. The other measure would increase the borrowing power of school districts by providing that homestead exemptions be ignored in computing assessed valuations as a tax base for bonding purposes.

Omnibus Tax Bill Under Fire

ST. PAUL (AP)—The Minnesota House Tax committee was told today by a mining company spokesman that "the worst possible way to encourage investments necessary to prolong the life of Minnesota's mining industry would be to adopt the administration ore tax program."

Gov. Freeman is supporting an increase of 4 per cent—from 12 to 16 per cent—in the occupation tax on iron ore. This would raise an additional 16 million dollars for the next two years, with half that amount intended for the general revenue fund.

President Signs Paris Treaties

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed the Paris agreements on rearming a sovereign West Germany.

In a simple ceremony in his White House office the President put his name to the two treaties ratified by the Senate last week.

Ike and Adlai May Do Repeat Race in 1956

WASHINGTON (AP)—Results of state and local elections strengthened a belief among politicians today that President Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson may square off again in 1956.

Republican and Democratic national chairmen claimed good omen for their parties in conflicting statements yesterday over the outcome of balloting in Michigan, Chicago, St. Louis and smaller cities east and west.

But to many political strategists the inconclusive results were such as to indicate both parties will be looking for their strongest candidates next year.

GOP Chairman Leonard W. Hall, who says he assumes Eisenhower will run again, said, "No one in the Republican party should have any delusions about the hard and tough fight we face."

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), who has proclaimed Stevenson a "shoo-in" for the 1956 Democratic nomination, said in an interview he regards the election of a Democratic mayor in Chicago as strengthening Stevenson's party position.

Woman Driver Dies in Collision With Speeder

MONROE, Wis. (AP)—A woman was killed Tuesday night when her car collided with that of a 17-year-old motorist, who, a few minutes before, had outdistanced traffic officers in a 100-mile-an-hour chase.

The victim of the collision four and one-half miles south-east of Brownstown was Mrs. William Busjahn, 5, of rural Brownstown. Her daughter, Ethel, received minor injuries.

Sheriff Samuel F. Hummel of Green county identified the driver of the other car as Richard L. Feller, 17, of rural Monticello.

The sheriff said that less than 20 minutes before the fatal accident, officers had chased Feller some distance at high speed, through towns, but had been unable to catch him.

A reckless driving charge was placed against Feller. An inquest was ordered into the death of Mrs. Busjahn.

Alfred H. Rohrer, Cochrane, Wis., celebrated 50 years in business Tuesday with an open house at his auto agency garage. He is recognized as the businessman with the longest service in that community, starting as a hardware and general merchandise dealer in 1905. Since then he has sold four different makes of cars, with sales between 6,000-7,000 during the years 1911-1955. He also has been active in public affairs, serving as Cochrane mayor and Buffalo County supervisor at various times. (Daily News photo)

Sense of Touch All-Important to Duluth Shoemaker

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—The gentle-looking shoemaker on Third avenue here might spend more time on the customers' footwear than the average craftsman. Some of his technique might be unorthodox.

William C. Anderson, partially blind since birth, depends almost entirely on "feel" during his work. He can tell if the heel or sole of a shoe is worn enough for a replacement. He depends on his sense of touch when grinding a new sole or stitching.

"It's also possible for me to shine a shoe while looking out a window and I won't touch the socks," the 44-year-old shoemaker says.

Anderson can see only slightly out of his right eye. When he was old enough to work, an agent for the blind suggested the shoe repair business.

In 1930 he went to work for a Duluth shoe repairman at a salary of $3 a week. Seven years later he borrowed $150 from a fund for the blind, made a down payment on his own shop and opened for business with Fred Thompson, a life-long friend.

Thompson does most of the specialty work, but Anderson maintains 21 business accounts.

"The blind," he says, "shouldn't be afraid to tackle a job. There are only a few things we can't do."

Recently he moved into a new building which, besides providing more working space, permits Anderson to maintain a "shine-while-you-wait" service.

Despite his handicap, Anderson can handle all but the most complicated jobs. The stitching machine gives him trouble at times, and he often turns work of that kind over to employees. But his assistants recognize him as an able workman.

Tax Dodge Is Sport of Rich Abroad

By STAN SWINTON
(For Hal Boyle)

ROME (AP)—Beating the income tax is a national sport among the rich of Italy and France. Each government has tried to crack down, with limited success.

The American taxpayer has a stake in this situation as he prepares his tax return—with no cheating permitted—for the April 15 deadline. Part of his tax goes for foreign aid, and he can ask: "Why should my money go to help countries where the rich often dodge taxes?"

The U. S. government agrees there's no justice in that.

Gina Lollabrigida is probably the highest paid film star in Europe. She declared an income of $4,800 last year. The government estimated her minimum earnings at $40,000. That's sheer gallantry if you credit a private estimate in the film industry that she may have taken in as much as $350,000.

Handsome actor-director Vittorio de Sica told the tax man he earned $16,000. The collector thought $64,000 was about right. An authoritative Italian source says De Sica probably made $300,000.

Blue-blooded Prince Alessandro Torlonia declared $17,200 income—somewhat short of the $1,279,880 the tax man estimated.

How do they get away with it?

In Italy the present tax law has no provision for sending tax dodgers to jail. In France, cheaters who are caught get off with fines, almost invariably. Most never are caught.

But the basic problem is more complicated. The income tax is old stuff in the United States, which derives over 80 per cent of governmental income from individual and corporation income levies. Here the rich always have been powerful and most revenue comes from hidden taxes, taxes that hit the poor harder proportionately than the rich. Only in recent decades has the balance of power shifted and the tax structure been modified.

France collects only about 25 per cent of national revenues from income tax. Hidden taxes on industry, food, sales and the like make up the rest.

Italy picks up about one-sixth of the government income from direct taxes. The bulk comes from a three per cent tax on every transaction in the country, national monopolies on salt and tobacco and similar levies.

Leaders in both countries recognize that income taxes are a fair way to apportion the cost of government on the basis of ability to pay. The public is hard to convince, however. Latins prefer paying in dribs and drabs.

Actually it costs them as much or more under the present system. The over-all tax burden in Italy is 27 per cent of gross national product. In France it's 31 per cent.

There is some excuse for the rich ducking taxes. If an honest man paid all the indirect taxes and the full income tax, he could go broke. The tax rate anticipates cheating in declarations.

The tax collection system encourages bribery and evasion, too. Many a tax collector is a $150-a-month civil servant. Temptation is great.

Moreover, Europeans don't talk about their incomes the way Americans do. Nobody ever really knows how much a rich man has.

It's a grim picture—but not a hopeless one.

Italy expects to have a new law on the books this summer instituting jail sentences of up to six months for major tax evaders. The average taxable income declared by Italians tripled between 1951 and 1954—strong evidence the higher income groups are being more realistic in their declarations. The number of returns rose during the same period.

France has had less of a crack-down on income tax payments, but both countries are trying to extract more of their taxes from the rich. Each is meeting resistance from the citizenry.

The Record of Highway 61-14: 10 Years—15 Deaths

This is a 10-year pictorial recapitulation of the Winona-La Crescent segment of Highways 61-14, which some have called a "death trap."

Each of the numbers in the composite aerial photograph above indicates a traffic fatality. There are 15 of them. To learn how each of the 15 died, see the paragraph with the corresponding number (right). No. 1 is the most recent death: The salesman who burned to death in his car after hitting an ice patch last month; No. 15 is the first in the 10-year story of suffering and death: The Mill Citián who was killed when his car went out of control south of Lamoille May 1, 1945.

It's approximately 23 miles from Winona to La Crescent, the segment which the Minnesota Department of Highways has been talking about building for more than 10 years. These 15 fatalities occurred over the middle section, however—the 13-odd miles from two miles north of Lamoille to just south of Dresbach.

All these Daily News aerial photos look upriver and show only the part of Highways 61-14 where fatalities occurred.

1—Glen Bleuer, 47, Rochester, burned to death when his car skidded on ice, overturned and caught fire 3½ miles south of Lamoille at 11:50 p.m. March 9, 1955.

2—Verdale Larson, 26, 1286 W. 2nd St., died of a neck fracture suffered when his car and an automobile transport semitrailer collided head-on one-half mile north of Lamoille at 11:35 p.m. March 8, 1955.

3—Susan Dearman, 7, died at a La Crosse hospital at 12:15 a.m. Nov. 12, 1954, of internal injuries suffered seven hours earlier when she was struck by a car as she ran across the highway near her home in Dresbach.

4—Eugene J. Meyers, 60, La Crosse, fatally injured when he was struck by another automobile as he stood beside his stalled car two miles north of Lamoille Feb. 18, 1953. One of four persons struck by the other car, Meyers died of a neck fracture about 15 minutes after the accident at 2:30 p.m.

5—Miss Lila Meyers, 37, Eugene Meyers' daughter who was injured fatally in the same mishap. She was treated at the Winona General Hospital for about four days and then transferred to a La Crosse hospital where she died of accident injuries Feb. 26, 1953.

6—Eugene Butts, 50, Charles City, Iowa, killed instantly when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a car five miles north of Dakota on the evening of Aug. 15, 1953.

7—Cpl. Jackie C. Richards, 20, Svea, Minn., fatally injured when his car was struck broadside by another automobile Feb. 15, 1952, three miles south of Lamoille. Five other persons were injured in the accident.

8—Mrs. Clemana Schneider, 68, Lakewood, Ohio, who died in a La Crosse hospital on the afternoon of July 14, 1952, 2½ hours after her car ran off on the shoulder of the highway three-quarters of a mile south of Dresbach, dropped over an embankment and overturned in the ditch.

9—John L. Fox, 32, La Crosse, whose car went out of control on the highway near the south limits of Dakota Nov. 13, 1952, struck a culvert, plunged over a 20-foot bank and came to rest in a creek bed. He died of internal injuries 4½ hours after the accident.

10—Roy Sorenson, 45, Minneapolis, killed in the collision of two semitrailers—one of which he was driving—four miles south of Lamoille.

11—Ben Dearman, 77, Dresbach, who was walking across the highway in the village of Dresbach during a heavy snowstorm March 17, 1951, stumbled and was struck by a car while he was attempting to get up. He was the father of Susan Dearman who was killed in a similar accident at Dresbach last November.

12—Frank Copus, 16, La Crosse, killed when the car in which he was riding went out of control and ran into the ditch near the south limits of Lamoille Sept. 10, 1951. Several other teen-agers riding in the car were injured in the accident.

13—Bennie Henze, 47, 159 E. King St., who died in the head-on collision of his car and a truck one-half mile north of Lamoille Oct. 16, 1948.

14—Alfred Boycott, 21, 623 Grand St., whose car ran off the pavement, ripped over several guard rail posts and overturned three miles north of Dakota April 8, 1946.

Employment Up For 2nd Month; Gains Forecast

Employment in Winona began to adopt its annual "new look" for spring during March, with the total number employed in the city moving upward for the second consecutive month.

The March total, however, is still the lowest figure for that month since 1952.

But Stanley S. Hammer, manager of the Winona office of the Minnesota State Employment Service, sounded an optimistic note in a month-end report today, when he said that worker demand has swung to an upward trend, while worker supply was dropping a bit.

Hammer's analysis shows that 9,699 were employed here during March. The total is 15 higher than February's 9,684 figure and 50 lower than the 9,749 employed in Winona a year ago.

Rises Predicted
Slowly rising employment levels are forecast for the next 60 days, with the largest gains anticipated in manufacturing and construction.

Of the 10 industrial groups, manufacturing, retail trade, service, railroads and construction showed employment gains; wholesale trade, utilities, government and "other" activities registered losses, and finance remained the same.

Manufacturing employment rose for the fifth consecutive month and is now at its highest level since last September. Heavy production in the commercial fertilizer industry during its peak season and the callback of workers in glove manufacturing accounted for most of the gain.

A slight food processing employment drop was the only decline in the manufacturing field, one which is expected to continue rising during the next 60-day period.

Retail Payrolls Up
Retail trade employment, after its February low point, rose for the first time this year. The addition of workers for the spring and Easter trade accounted for the employment hike.

Much of the climb occurred in the general merchandise and apparel stores. Further rises are forecast for the next two months. Construction, after reaching its

Fountain Man To Be Charged In Traffic Death

ROCHESTER, Minn.—Sven J. Swenson, 36, Fountain, will be arraigned on a criminal negligence charge in municipal court here Monday in the death of a 34-year-old Hastings man.

A 6-man coroner's jury ruled Wednesday that criminal negligence on the part of Swenson caused the death of Robert Hazeman in an automobile accident on Highway 52 near here last Thursday night. The jury deliberated an hour at the conclusion of the inquest called by Olmsted County Coroner Dr. T. O. Wellner.

Swenson was granted adjournment until Monday when he was arraigned in court Wednesday afternoon. He is being held in jail. Bail is $3,000. The complaint was signed by Sheriff Gerald Cunningham.

Intoxication Tests
Two witnesses testified that chemical tests indicated that Swenson was intoxicated. Sheriff Cunningham said a blood sample taken from Swenson revealed 18 alcohol percentage and explained that 15 per cent is considered a state of intoxication.

Highway Patrolman Alfred Mattson testified that a urine sample contained .28 per cent alcohol. He added that .21 or .22 per cent is considered to be an intoxicating percentage.

Dr. W. A. Bennett, Mayo Clinic pathologist, said Hazeman's blood contained .08 milligrams per cent of alcohol and that 150 has been set as the figure for intoxication.

Sheriff Testifies
Sheriff Cunningham said that Swenson had told him at the scene of the mishap that he had been driving and that the accident was his fault.

Mrs. Myrtle Dorner, Hastings, another passenger in the car, testified twice that she was not sure who was driving and once that she thought Hazeman was driving. Another highway patrolman, Lyle Loeding, said Swenson told him that he had been driving.

Deputy Sheriff Judd Reifsnider identified photographs.

Associated Plan

Friends-Supported Bill Gets Legislative Support

ST. PAUL—If the State Legislature heeds the action of House and Senate Education committees, the Friends of Minnesota Schools may win a major victory in its fight for associated school districts.

As proposed by the Friends, an associated district would permit small rural districts to associate with larger high school districts for purposes of a complete 12-year education of children without reorganizing or consolidating and thereby losing common school district identity.

A bill setting up procedures through which association could be accomplished was recommended for passage today by the two committees of the Legislature, according to The Associated Press.

Sen. Leslie Westin, St. Paul, argued that the bill was unworkable.

Sen. Walter Burdick, Rochester, principal Senate sponsor, replied he was certain those who are asking this type of legislation would cooperate to make it work.

Sen. Burdick and Sen. Harry Wahlstrand, Willmar, told the committee the proposal would solve problems in some parts of the state.

Couples 'Spoon' Openly Now in Swank Cafes

BY EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Everybody was spooning at the Little Club — "spooning" being the new Cafe Society stunt wherein you manipulate the bowl part of the spoon around the tip of your nose until it sticks there. Playwright Eddie Tricinski, French actress Lilo, pretty Gene Courtney, and Mitch Miller, the record man, quickly mastered it. "Spooning" is most enjoyed by people who ought to be home working. The Duchess of Windsor and Charles F. Cushing applauded the mambo furiously at El Morocco—but danced the waltz. . . . Georgiana Carhart of "Life Begins at 80" will be 80 next month. Jack Barry asked her what gift she'd get the most kick out of using. She answered, "A 1955 calendar."

Jo Stafford'll follow Perry Como from CBS to NBC, and is also expected to make a record deal with RCA when her Columbia deal's up. Como, who's made a $15,000,000 deal to do a one-hour NBC variety show — probably against the Jackie Gleason time — was interviewed by young Fort Worth radio preacher Marvin Boyd. Como, whose religious feelings are well known, told the minister: "I'd like to change places with you."

"Always in your column I quick peek But never do I see the male physique" —T. Stein (NYC) Mayor Wagner told at a dinner how a small boy who'd been reading about the Jackie case said to his father: "Daddy, there's one thing about the case I don't understand. Daddy thought, 'Well, here it comes: now I have to explain everything,' but said, 'All right, son, what is it you want to know?' Replied son: 'Daddy, what is oleomargarine?'"

To our Silly Similes we must add some "Mad Metaphors." Betty Sherwin describes one Florida phony as "a rhinestone in the rough." . . . Back to smiles: Bill Robertson, Elizabeth, N. J., says "He was as common as the Joneses at a raided stag party." . . . Larry Steehan of Kearny, N. J.: "He was as persuasive as the salesman who couldn't sell back saw blades in Sing Sing." . . . Buddy Carroll, NYC: "As happy as a bookmaker paying off a $50 bet."

Many American expressions are delightful though never heard in our Big Town. In the Missouri cotton country, Ralph E. Nye of Webster Grove, Mo., heard this: "He works from can to can't." Meaning, he works from the time he can see in the morning until he can't at night. . . . Another: "The cotton is shaking hands across the middle." —the plants are so large they bend over and touch from row to row.

An out-of-towner, breakfasting in New York, told the waiter: "Bring me a bottle of beer and some apple pie." Said the waiter: "O.K. How's everybody in St. Louis?"

The editors and publishers will be here Apr. 25-26 to work and relax at the ANPA convention — which reminds me that Charlie MacArthur and Isadora Bennett were reminiscing about the picture-stealing days on the Chicago papers. When caught, they'd say to the enraged citizen whose house had been burgled: "But we were only doing you a favor."

"Doing me a favor!" he'd snort. "Certainly! We have such lousy photographers, they'd make you look ugly!"

"Well, in that case, let me give you some wonderful portraits I had made . . ."

It always worked. For Easter, I'm getting an emerald green suit (newest fashion!) and a smog-gray (or California color) tuxedo shirt with two buttons on the collar. Irving Heller, the tailor, who says us men dress horribly, promises I'll be the best-dressed columnist. By the way, men, gray shirts with black dinner coats are now deemed very chic by leading Saloomatics.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . Joe DiMaggio's taking Joe Jr., 13, to Newark to bowl, because of a Manhattan regulation against minors in some such spots. . . . A rich socialite may be arrested in a big Page One glamour girl story. Marlon Brando's grocer, laundryman and tailor have been alerted — he's coming back to town. . . . Gilda Gray, the old shimmy queen, opens at a Boston cafe Thursday. A big-name boxer skipped to Cuba, leaving his wife and kids penniless here. . . . Jean Alexander, who does a coffee commercial on TV, will dye her hair "coffee brown" at the Int'l Beauty Show.

A TV producer asked busty, lush Sherry Britton, "Sherry, where can I find a girl for my show — someone who's sexy and voluptuous?" . . . Farouk's reported romancing his ex-wife again. . . . Joe Louis outgrew his tiny sports car and sold it.

Comic Morty Gunty will marry Marilyn Weiss, who was his student when he was a B'klyn teacher. . . . Prince Christian of Hanover wishes someone'd introduce him to Rhonda Fleming. (Down, Prince!)

Chris Hoefler, manager of P. J. Clark's, the Third Av. saloon, is getting a H'wood screen test. . . . Sammy Davis Jr. told a cheering Copa audience, "Gee, you're the kind of audience that, when the comics meet in Lindy's at 3 a.m., they all say they had!"

Earl's Pearls . . . of Milwaukee claims Jersey mosquitoes are the country's biggest: "I saw one so big it carried a hostess."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The things a woman will do to get a man make us wonder if it's worth it. —Charley Grant.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Mary McCoy denies she can't keep a secret. It's the people SHE tells who can't.

The glasses that make a woman look most attractive to men, notes D. O. Flynn, are often those recently emptied. . . . That's earl, brother.

It's a good idea not to repeat two fruit flavors in a dinner menu. If you are serving fruit as a first course, or as an accompaniment to the main course, you'll find coffee or chocolate-flavored desserts make a fine ending to the meal.

Every Star Wants to Be Film Producer

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — "Every star wants to get into the act." That variation of the Jimmy Durante lament might be voiced by any film producer these days. Almost every day a film performer announces creation of a firm to produce movies.

Look at the names of those who have plans to produce their own pictures: Burt Lancaster, Marilyn Monroe, Marlon Brando, Joan Crawford, Rita Hayworth, Jane Russell, Lucille Ball-Desi Arnaz, Conrad Wilde, Henry Fonda, Kirk Douglas, Robert Mitchum, Frank Sinatra, Errol Flynn, Dick Powell, June Allyson, Jane Wyman, Ann Sothern, James Mason, etc.

The majority of these players have made deals with the bustling United Artists firm, which is certainly living up to its name. As a matter of fact, the company was founded on the same principal 35 years ago, as a releasing company for producers Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Charlie Chaplin and D. W. Griffith.

The focal point for the producer-star deals on this coast is the office of Robert Blumofe, V.P. in charge of Hollywood operations for U.A. He explained why stars are turning producers:

"It's because the present tax setup is extremely unfair for performers. Sure, the star makes a lot of money, but his span of high earning is short. It's possible for a star to be rich one year and broke the next."

"The most recent example was Mario Lanza. He made a million dollars one year and didn't work the next."

"Stars are naturally looking for ways to spread their earnings over a period of years. The production setup is one way to do that. When the stars own their films, they have a large residual value that can be realized in many ways."

Here's how the plan works: U.A. puts up the money for making the picture. The star is given complete autonomy except U.A. is consulted on (1) a realistic budget; and (2) a salable film subject.

VOICE of the OUTDOORS

Turtle Hunter

Backs of turtles are beginning to show through the mud as they work their way to the surface from their winter retreats. Duane Squires, 1733 W. 5th St., is pictured above with part of his Tuesday catch. The two big ones Duane is holding run about 25 pounds.

"You've got to poke around in the mud until you locate them," he said. "At the present time, they are pretty close to the surface. Sometimes you can see the outline of their backs in the mud. They will break through in a couple of days."

Secret of turtle hunting, Squires declares, is to know the places where turtles winter, and to know the feel when one is contacted with a pole. He has taken 27 so far this season on three hunting trips. He dresses them and sells the meat locally. There is also a market for live turtles.

Local Game Bills

Two bills recommended by Winona County sportsmen at their county meeting and sponsored by the Winona Rod and Gun Club were recommended for passage by the Minnesota senate game and fish committee at its final session. One would prohibit leaving duck decoys unattended, and the other would completely ban ferrets in rabbit hunting. Another bill of local interest which has been recommended for passage prohibits driving ducks from refuge areas.

Minnesota's trout season will open at 10 a.m. April 30 this year. The bill setting the opening hour at 10 a.m. the first day has become a law. The hours the rest of the season will be from one hour before sunrise to 10 p.m.

Closed Areas

No serious protests against the proposed changes in "the closed areas" in the Winona sector of the refuge were registered at the April meeting of the Winona Rod and Gun Club Tuesday evening. Supt. Ray C. Steele and Bill Green of the refuge appeared before the meeting and explained changes in this area.

The meeting, in cooperation with other sportsmen clubs located along the river, adopted a resolution that will launch an investigation into commercial fishing in the river. The background, thought, was to find ways to improve walleye fishing in the river.

Ikes' Plan

Out of the national convention of the Izaak Walton League at Chicago last week has come a new farm plan under which the federal government would pay farmers the present cost of farm supports in half and take 70 million acres of land now used for crops or farm purposes, such as pastures, out of production.

Under the plan, the farmer would rent the land on a long term through a plan in which Nature is keeping it. It is getting results, vegetation is taking over, runoff is being halted and the destructiveness of floods reduced.

Under the Ikes' plan, however, the farmer would retain the land and rent it to the government who could return it to the farmer for crop purposes if national demands required it for growing of food. The rental would supplement the farmer's other income, pay the taxes on the land for maintenance of government facilities like roads and schools, and prevent the upsetting of any community's economy by withdrawal of lands from production and earning capacity.

All of which is sound economics and food logics. Good environment is the key to the welfare and abundance of every species that live on this earth, and qualitative nutrition equally essential comes from proper management of land. The Ikes may have hit on the program this nation needs, but it is another thing to sell it to the people of the nation.

Minneiska Man Gets 20-Day Term

Ambrose Bedtke, 31, Minneiska, was ordered to serve a 20-day sentence in the county jail this morning after he pleaded guilty to a charge of cashing a worthless check for $10 here.

Bedtke was taken into custody by Sheriff George Fort on a warrant charging him with cashing the check at the Winona Truck & Implement Co. Feb. 2.

He pleaded guilty to the charge before Judge E. D. Libera in municipal court.

Peter Zabrocki, 48, 866 E. 4th St., forfeited deposits totaling $75 when he failed to appear in municipal court to answer traffic charges.

Zabrocki was arrested by police at 10:45 p.m. Tuesday after his car had been involved in a collision at Highway 61 and Mankato avenue.

He was charged with failing to yield the right of way to an oncoming vehicle for which he made a $25 deposit and with operating a motor vehicle with no driver's license.

In consideration of Zabrocki's record of three previous arrests on license counts and one for careless driving the deposit on this charge was set at $50.

JERUSALEM, Israel—A "Last Supper" by a well-known Israel artist is the first in which the setting is the assumed historic site: The Cenacle on Mt. Zion.

The oil painting differs from the usual representation of the great religious drama. Austrian born painter, Ludwig Blum, 64, a resident of Jerusalem since 1923, worked on the 4 by 10-foot canvas for over a year.

Experts say the authenticity of the site of the Cenacle is very probable. It is the traditional location for the house of St. John Mark where the Last Supper and later the meetings of the first Christians took place. Soon afterward a church was built on the spot. In the course of history the church was destroyed and rebuilt several times—but the location of the "Last Supper" hall remained the same.

Today, "The Chamber of the Last Supper" is a spacious chapel with a Moslem prayer niche on one side and with a stone in the northern wall which is marked as "The Seat of the Master." The chapel itself has a Gothic ceiling supported by two high columns. This style of building is still typical of many Oriental houses.

Blum's preliminary studies led him not only to the Cenacle but to archeological and other museums here where he found historic details such as glasses and costumes for the picture.

He found no models for the 12 disciples. All the Oriental-Jewish types he thought to be suitable, refused to sit for him. Extremely orthodox Jews, they believed that being painted is contrary to the Fourth Commandment: "Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image." Blum had to rely on his memory. But as a very experienced portraitist, he knows human faces thoroughly. Jerusalemites looking at the disciples in the finished painting are under the impression that they must have often met these men before in the streets of the Holy City.

Varying from the classical design of the "Last Supper" where Jesus sits at the table flanked on either side by his disciples Blum has seated Him at the head of the table which seems to be more in line with Oriental and Jewish tradition.

An Interpretation provided by The Upper Room

COMMUNION
It was a day of heart-breaking farewell. To One Man had come the time of final fellowship with his friends. In deep anguish, he was to take leave of them and of this world. For this was the last day of his life!

With the keenest anticipation, the Master made his plans in advance, so that nothing would disturb his last hours of fellowship with his disciples. He did not choose to make a will. He did not wish to make a farewell speech. He chose, instead, to eat with his disciples in a gesture of gracious friendliness that will be remembered forever as the Lord's Table.

Luke tells the story of the Last Supper. And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the apostles with him. And he said unto them, with desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer: for I say unto you, I will not eat it, until it be fulfilled in the Kingdom of God.

And he received a cup, and when he had given thanks, he said, "Take this, and divide it among yourselves: for I say unto you, I will not drink from henceforth of the fruit of the vine, until the Kingdom of God shall come."

At the end of their meal together, Jesus said to his disciples, Children, yet a little while I am with you . . . whither I go ye cannot come; so now I say unto you: A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another even as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

MONDOVI, Wis.—Donald Parker Construction Co., Mondovi, was given a $14,528 contract Wednesday for installation of sanitary trunk sewers here.

Councilman Should Go Fly a Kite

A councilman in Cleveland, Ohio, recently protested loudly over the fact that television stations in his city will carry only about 25 telecasts of the Cleveland Indians' baseball games. Last year all of the Indians' games away from home were telecast but scheduling difficulties at the television stations have made the abbreviated program necessary this year. The councilman proposed calling in the club officials and representatives of the stations to "find out the facts."

Does the public have the right to expect sports promoters and television stations to provide free entertainment? The only answer for those who believe in the free enterprise system is that no such right exists.

Baseball is a commercial venture as well as a sport. Team owners have a great deal of money invested and have a right to conduct their business in any manner they see fit as long as they obey all laws. The same is true of those who own television stations.

The owners of the Cleveland stations and the Cleveland baseball team would be well within their rights if they were to tell the councilman who is so upset to go fly a kite.

Too Few Aware of Function of Civil Defense

On June 15 a mock hydrogen bomb attack on 50 American cities will be conducted. The cities presumed to be under attack will be expected to react as they would if they were suffering an actual onset. Federal employees in Washington, along with President Eisenhower and other high officials of government, will be evacuated to safer areas from which the government might be operated if Washington were destroyed.

This is a grim business but it may point up just exactly what must be done to make our Civil Defense provisions adequate. As matters stand now too few people are aware of the function of Civil Defense. The mock attack may dramatize the need for preparedness and at the same time demonstrate whether or not present civilian defense policies are practical.

The tests will require the intelligent co-operation of all citizens in the areas affected. Instructions on what to do and what not to do will be available long before the test date. It is necessary for all citizens to know the rules and follow them. The success or failure of the drill of June 15 may determine the chances for survival of a great many people.

Ninth Corps Must Do Its Own KP

The "do-it-yourself" fad has extended to the Army, if indeed it didn't originate there. The U. S. Army's Ninth Corps, stationed in the Sendai area of Japan, has been ordered to start doing KP by itself. This has meant that all units must fire the Japanese dishwashers, assistant cooks and other "kitchen police" hired to do the work.

As a result of this order for the GIs to peel their own spuds, scrub their own pans and mop their own floors, some 225 Japanese will lose their jobs. Such, apparently, is life in the Army.

Lt. Gen. Thomas F. Hickey, who perpetrated the "do-it-yourself" order, said it was issued because all units must "be fully prepared to conduct effective operations in the field."

This may sound to many GIs like a rather flimsy excuse, since effective operations in the field of battle aren't exactly related to KP.

Perhaps the men of the Ninth Corps would like to tell the General that he ought to practice the do-it-yourself approach to KP. But they won't. They'll simply do it themselves, and keep their thoughts about it secret. Classified top secret. Till they are sure the General is safely out of hearing.

Historic Accuracy In Alger Hiss Case

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK—I picked out of the Syracuse Daily Orange an item concerning a lecturer, Paul Harris, who is reported to have said:

"The Alger Hiss case is not closed. I am 90 per cent certain. Now not 100 per cent, but 90 per cent certain that the Hiss case is not closed. I have talked to people close to this and I'm pretty sure that in later years it will come to light that Alger Hiss did what he did . . . to cover up for someone who was mentally incapable of making decisions."

This curious comment leads nowhere in particular because it does not indicate who was "mentally incapable of making decisions." It might have been a male or a female; a public official or a relative; or it could be no one at all—just a guess. Nor is the comment of the slightest importance because whatever Alger Hiss did, he did by choice, as all humans, not captive, do. And he has been to prison for it and is now free.

WHAT WOULD BE OF REAL value would be a complete and truthful memoir by Hiss on his relations to our failure at Yalta and to the direction of our China policy which have brought on such disastrous consequences. Hiss can well afford to be truthful now. He has served such a sentence as a court determined upon and that, under our system, frees him from his past. There can be no double jeopardy.

But what Hiss knows is of historic significance. Too many people want history suppressed because they look so stupid in its pages. Yet the fill-in on Yalta and the China policy is necessary if the history of these events is ever to be written accurately. The prospects for such accuracy are today not too good.

An example of controversy which will puzzle the future historian is the role of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Since his return to this country after his dismissal by Pres. Truman, Gen. MacArthur in public statement and private conversation has stated that he had favored efforts to bring Russia into the Far Eastern war immediately after Pearl Harbor but had opposed Russia's joining as unnecessary after October, 1944.

Efforts have been made to deny that this had been MacArthur's position. As all the papers in this case are in the possession of both Gen. MacArthur and the Pentagon, surely the difference of opinion can be dissolved by the publication of the documents.

Gen. Charles A. Willoughby says in his book, "MacArthur: 1941-1951":

" . . . as early as December 13 MacArthur wired Sec. of War Henry Stimson to force the Soviet hand. As MacArthur put it: ' . . . the Russians had turned back the Germans before Moscow. Stalin has had his great victories, the Germans had been rolled back 200 to 600 miles. That was the time for the Russians to put pressure on the North and to save the Pacific. But Churchill and the American government were against it. I was as insistent on the Russians' entrance into the war at that time as I was against it later when we had the victory in our grasp.'"

GEN. WILLOUGHBY WAS MacArthur's Intelligence Officer and because of their present personal relations, his boo must be regarded as authorized. So we turn to page 285 of the same book and find:

"Toward the end of 1944, Russian intervention in the Pacific appeared as a factor in secret diplomatic understandings. The General commented on this subject as follows: 'From the viewpoint of my headquarters, Russian participation was not required. I had urged Russian intervention in 1941 to draw the Japanese from their Southwest march and keep them pinned down in Siberia. By 1945 such intervention had become superfluous.'"

Frazier Hunt, in his book, "The Untold Story of Douglas MacArthur," which he could not have written without access to documents, speaks of a press conference on the porch of the Japanese club at Tacloban, Leyte, several weeks before the Yalta agreement. Hunt wrote:

"Communist Russia, he (MacArthur) insisted, would sooner or later try to reverse the results of the Russo-Japanese War of 1904-5. She still dreamed of recovering Port Arthur, thus securing a warm-water port into the Pacific, and, as well, regaining her lost toehold in Manchuria."

History is built, like a mosaic, from bits and scraps. To this mosaic, Alger Hiss can add much if he would serve this country.

Navy Won't Take FDR's Cherished Sloop as Gift

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—When Armand Hammer, the collector of Black Angus and King Farouk's Egyptian trophies, acquired Campobello, old homestead of Franklin D. Roosevelt, he also acquired some of the late president's prized possessions.

Campobello is the summer home in Nova Scotia where FDR's mother took her family for years and where the late president was stricken with polio after he dived into cold Canadian water following an exhausting set of tennis.

One of the late president's most prized possessions at Campobello was a sloop which he sailed young man. This was how he first acquired the nautical experience which he later used as assistant secretary of the Navy. Roosevelt cherished the sloop and kept it long after his illness, plus the press of presidential duties made it impossible for him to sail it.

When Hammer bought the Campobello estate from Elliott Roosevelt (who incidentally sold it over the heads of other members of the family Hammer gave the sloop to FDR's eldest son, Cong. James Roosevelt.

And Cong. Roosevelt offered the sloop to the Secretary of the Navy, Charles Thomas, as a gift to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. "It occurs to me that the sloop might be of value to the midshipmen," Jimmy said, "not only in their training, but perhaps sentimentally as having once been used by a former assistant secretary of the Navy."

But the Navy, which FDR loved and which he helped to build up to be the most powerful in the world, turned the gift down. Secretary of the Navy Thomas didn't even bother to reply personally. He sent word through his aide that the sloop would cost $600 to repair and the economy-minded Eisenhower administration couldn't afford the money.

Merry-Go-Round Colleagues are twitting the Senate's oldest bachelor, 97-year-old Theodore Francis Green of Rhode Island, about his "newest love," Mrs. Carter Glass, widow of the late senator from Virginia. Sen. Green, who looks as if he would surpass all-time records for age in the Senate, still walks three miles to work every morning, but complains the doctors want him to quit wrestling — once his favorite exercise . . . Another great walker is Justice William O. Douglas, who walks about 15 to 20 miles every Sunday. Last week he started at 34th street in Georgetown, walked up the C and O canal, 17 miles in exactly five hours and 40 minutes.

In wartime, if the infantry makes 20 miles a day, it's really traveling . . . Sen. and Mrs. Fulbright of Arkansas are one couple who look as if they really enjoy dancing together . . . Congratulations to the Youngstown Vindicator for cracking open the peculiar Bethlehem Steel deal by which $6,000,000 of employees' pension money was used in a maneuver to acquire Youngstown Steel and Tube.

Shush! It's Secret! The Defense Department isn't the only place which suddenly in-vokes top-level secrecy on dust-covered information the public and the taxpayers have a right to know about.

While defense officials were suddenly and belatedly stamping "top secret" on Gen. MacArthur's 10-year-old war papers after he claimed he hadn't wanted Russian help in defeating Japan, the Labor Department was doing the same thing with another set of papers.

Quite recently the Labor Department announced that it had black-listed 20 contractors from getting government contracts because they had violated the Davis-Bacon Act. This requires government contractors to pay prevailing wages in the area where they're working, and Sec. of Labor Mitchell made a bragadocio announcement that Eisenhower was protecting labor by

Advice on Health

What Are Causes of Fainting?

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Have you ever fainted? Know why you did?

You can probably blame your abdomen or legs, or at least the blood vessels in them. Or again, maybe your collar or tie was too tight.

Let me explain. Fainting is usually caused by fright, a drug reaction, a temperature change, severe pain or sudden loss of a large amount of blood.

Any of those conditions can dilate or widen the blood vessels in your legs or abdomen. When this happens, large amounts of blood flow into these widened vessels and not enough goes to the brain. Robbed of an adequate supply of blood, your brain can do nothing but permit you to lapse into unconsciousness.

Long Standing

Fainting may also occur if you've been standing for an exceptionally long period of time. Also, a tight collar may cause you to faint, especially if you are one of those who are extremely sensitive to pressure on nerves along the large blood vessels in the neck.

Fortunately, nature helps you revive, in the event you faint. If you lose consciousness, naturally you will fall. Ordinarily, this will put your head on a level with the rest of your body and make it easier for the blood to flow to the brain once again.

How to Help

The best thing you can do for a person who has fainted is to stretch him out so his head is tilted downward and his feet are raised slightly. This will help him regain consciousness much faster than if he were to sit with his head between his knees. Never force a person who has fainted to sit up until he has recovered completely.

You can loosen his collar, too. This will be especially helpful if the neck nerves have caused the temporary blackout.

Once he has regained consciousness, give him some sweetened fluids. This might bring marked improvement if he is sensitive to hunger-fainting.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

C. M.: I have been taking barbiturate drugs for a number of years for my nerves. How can I stop taking them?

Answer: Barbiturate drugs are not habit-forming. You must merely make up your mind that you will not take any more of these preparations.

Congress Should Take

Butter Color Out of Oleo

To the Editor:

Abraham Lincoln was supposed to have said this is a government for the people by the people. Those who don't have to pay that non-homestead tax and the oleo folks appear to be the people. That non-homestead tax should be on the ho-ho's, tramps and other loafers.

Wasn't it the oleo people who caused the U. S. to buy the left-overs, I mean butter. Someone said the butter business would never go haywire. Seems to me the dairymen of this country should demand of Congress to take the butter color out of oleo—copy cats, imitators, those oleo people. Do you think that the oleo people would let the dairymen copy them if they had the real thing? I don't and rightly so.

Now, for instance if you had apples that were so much better than the other guys and they colored their apples so that theirs would look like yours and thereby spoil your business, isn't that what spoiled the butter business? If nothing is done about it the U. S. maybe will be buying that butter the housekeepers should be buying.

Isn't it a phony business that the U. S. is buying butter? The butter surplus can be reduced by giving whole milk to the calves and pigs. The calves in this country have been getting skim milk or water for a good many years so's to save the cream and the calves have been getting substitutes so's to make up the shortage in skim milk.

There are many brands of calf feeds nowadays. We now have artificial butter oleo, artificial calf feeds, artificial calves and last but not least artificial members in Congress who were so liberal they took the text off and added the oleo people to imitate on the dairymen but let them have parity. If the dairymen themselves don't do anything about it they'll have to keep on nagging about parity. Instead they should demand of Congress to throw the color out of oleo, that imitation one, and give the dairymen a permanent right to their product, butter. Since the U. S. is buying the butter the states shouldn't have a voice in the matter.

So long as the U. S. is buying butter the oleo buyers are paying a high price for it and don't know it, it seems. Since Minnesota was called the bread and butter state it is proper that some fellows go the idea of getting out more grades of butter. There should be a half dozen or so to satisfy every taste and price. It seems the dairymen were too busy to attend to the business end of their job. They should have howled so loud that their voice could have been heard, way down under New Zealand for instance. That oleo affair was just another Yalta affair.

Would Move Milwaukee R.R. to Wisconsin Side

To the Editor:

The following is an exact copy of a letter I have just sent to State Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann. I thought you might be interested in it:

I have been prompted to take the liberty of writing you a letter in reference to the controversial problem of Highways 61 and 14. I do know you have many people who do not understand problems of this kind and their difficulties. This highway forefront which is being publicized so much, so many people do not understand that it is almost impossible to create a four-lane road way at its present standing because of the railway's roadbed and the Mississippi mountains or hills.

The only way that I see you can do it, is to have the rights to the right-of-way of the Milwaukee double track, rail roadbed, from Winona to La Crosse. Then you could only be in the correct position to go ahead for the spoken four-lane (separate two roads of one way, double lane traffic on each road.) It is almost impossible to move those Mississippi mountains or hills in the present position but by getting the rights to the Milwaukee roadbed, you could of course, have the mentioned Milwaukee Railroad join hands together with the North Western Railroad from Winona to La Crosse on the Wisconsin side.

Since the Milwaukee Railroad crosses the North Western Railroad in the west city limits of Winona, and must slow down for the city, and run through all of those streets, it could readily eliminate mostly all street crossings in Winona.

It could also eliminate their present station by utilizing the North Western station by only adding another track from Winona to La Crosse it would take care of that! Perhaps on the Wisconsin side.

It would be more economical, would save personnel, give a beautiful two lane, one way road for traffic of using their old roadbed and would save countless dollars in attempting to go into the Mississippi Mountains or hills. To go into this factor, it would only need correction of the now present two lane road!

Please, Sir! My studies are thinkable to correct a difficult situation and to do it with the most sensible way, it can be done. Provided that the Milwaukee Railroad can be spoken to and get an agreement between the Milwaukee Railroad, the North Western Railroad and the state of Minnesota.

Hospital Library Featured at Auxiliary Meeting

History of the Catharine Allison Hospital Library at the Winona General Hospital was reviewed and its work was summarized for representatives of the organizations affiliated with the Winona General Hospital Women's Auxiliary at the auxiliary's meeting in the Nurses Home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. L. William Bailey, president of the Catharine Allison Hospital Library Volunteers, presented the history of the library, telling of its early days, how it secured its name and its growth.

"No well-conducted hospital can afford to be without a hospital library. Not only is it of therapeutic value to the patient but it enhances the reputation," Mrs. Williams stated of the hospital.

"The therapeutic value of books for hospital patients," she continued, "has been recognized for some time and most hospitals provide their patients with regular library service. The points that have usually been made are that books lend a normal and familiar tone to an unnatural and fearsome one; that books keep a patient rested and forgetful of his illness; and finally, that the reaction of a patient to the books he reads may be used for diagnostic purposes."

The Winona library is thought to be one of only three successfully carried on by volunteer organizations, she said. In most hospitals, the hospital librarian is an employee of the public library system and the books are owned by the public library and kept in circulation from one hospital to another, it was pointed out.

The volunteers, it was explained, take a selection of books and magazines to the patient's room where the patient may choose his reading. Other services include "readers" for the patient who cannot or do not feel up to reading, and also a ceiling projector, the gift of the Mrs. Jaycees.

Winonans have contributed a large portion of the books and magazines in the hospital library. Other reading material is purchased with gift funds and interest from an endowment fund given by his daughters in memory of S. L. Prentiss who was responsible for starting the library.

Circulation from Jan. 1 to March 29, this year, was 184 adult books, 83 juvenile and 992 magazines, making a total circulation of 1,259. Mrs. Williams added that the library welcomes either book gifts, or money gifts, magazine subscriptions or used magazines.

During the business session at which Mrs. R. W. Miller, auxiliary president, presided, a roll call of representatives was taken, new representatives being introduced at that time. Mrs. Louis Wilson, secretary, gave the minutes.

Mrs. Thomas Kane announced names of the new finance committee to be composed of Mrs. Ward Lucas, treasurer; Mrs. Howard Ness, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Kane, vice president; Mrs. Michael Goergen, Mrs. C. D. Teasdale, Mrs. Harris Kalbrener and Mrs. Howard Packard.

Plans for the self-service coffee bar to be open 24 hours a day, were presented by Mrs. Carl Breidow, house committee chairman, who also reported that the "memorial book" will be ready for National Hospital Week. Planters in the lobby have been replanted and chairs are being reupholstered, the Winona Teresian Chapter taking charge of some reupholstery and the Winona Athletic Club Auxiliary furnishing $15 for labor charges for other reupholstering.

Work of the St. Matthew's Church women in sewing for the hospital was highly praised by Mrs. P. A. Mattison, sewing chairman, who reported that other groups have offered to do hand sewing. The machine sewing completed since Jan. 1 by the St. Matthew's women includes 1½ dozen operating room sheets, 20 dozen towels, three dozen small operating room sheets, 2½ dozen T-binders, 12 dozen washcloths, six bathing suits for physiotherapy patients, three dozen bedpan covers, and the mending of six dozen pajamas.

Mrs. Harry Young reported 1,600 volunteer hours of service since Feb. 16, 1954, contributed by members of 43 organizations affiliated with the auxiliary.

able to secure assistance elsewhere has long been a function of this auxiliary," Mrs. J. Milton Dahm stated in a written report submitted for Mrs. Robert Horton, welfare chairman. "When border-line cases have needed financial help for tonics, obstetrical care and so on, and aid could not be had from any other social agency, for one reason or another, the hospital auxiliary tried to, and did, in many instances, give the help that was badly needed for hospital care."

"The welfare committee operates similarly now but with a larger personnel of women who are familiar with social welfare techniques and these women serve with advice and supervision from trained workers from the county welfare office and Catholic Charities, to assist the committee when necessary."

While the money raised by the hospital auxiliary is used largely for equipment and furnishings in the hospital, a part of it is used for the above welfare purposes. The report for 1954 shows more than $600 allotted for needy cases at the hospital and at last week's meeting of the committee, bills approved for welfare totaled about $400. Amounts paid on hospital bills ranged from $30 to $100 though only portions of a bill were paid in most instances. Names of patients are never revealed when bills are presented for approval of the committee.

Mrs. F. O. Gorman, fund-raising chairman, stated that hereafter the auxiliary will sponsor only one fund-raising event each year in addition to the traditional Charity Ball. A play is planned this year. Only funds of the auxiliary are secured through these two events, from the organization membership fee of $5 and the sum of $200 annually received from an endowment fund.

Volunteers will be honored at a tea on National Hospital Day when open house will be held at the hospital May 15.

Members visited the hospital library at the close of the meeting. The visit was followed by tea in charge of the hospitality committee.

Hedlund Talks On Civil Defense For Soroptimists

C. A. Hedlund, local Civil Defense director, spoke to the members of the Soroptimist Club of Winona at their April luncheon meeting at the Huntsman's Room, Wednesday noon.

He outlined a proposed project for the club to take under its supervision, in order to facilitate the gathering of material for mass care, feeding, and housing, in case any attack is made on the Twin Cities area and the displaced persons are sent into the Winona area.

Mr. Hedlund stated that this entire welfare program under Civil Defense is under the supervision of the local county welfare offices throughout the state, and that surveys have been conducted throughout the state so that immediate knowledge will be available for mass care, feeding and housing in the event of any type disaster, either bomb, fire, or flood.

Instructions were given in a tentative manner and further details of the project will be given to the club members later. After some discussion, the club voted to take over the supervision of this survey, and Miss Harriet Kelley, Civil Defense committee chairman of the local club was named captain for the survey. Other members will assist her, as well as other persons in the community who will aid in this project.

Mrs. Fae Griffith, president, presided at the business session during the luncheon. Progress was reported by Miss Anita Saxine, chairman of the Woman of the Year dinner. Reservations for this dinner are to be made with Mrs. Herbert Streich or Mrs. Sylvester Ryan.

Miss Saxine announced that names of several nominees had already been sent in and more are expected this week. She stated that clubs are invited to sponsor a guest at this Woman of the Year dinner, such as the president of the club, or some other Minnesota club woman or person who is prominent in civic affairs.

Arrangements for the musical portion of the program are being made with Edgar Stahl, St. Mary's College. The dinner will be served at the Hotel Winona April 26.

Plans are being made by the local club for a tea to be given for Dr. Monsani. Mrs. D. B. McLaughlin will be chairman of this committee with Miss May Murray and Miss Dorothy Leicht assisting. The event will be held at the home of Miss Leicht. Date and further plans for this event will be announced later.

A discussion followed on the North Central Regional Conference of Soroptimist Clubs to be held at Marshalltown, Iowa, April 23 and 24. Mrs. Griffith, Miss Kelly, Miss Leona McGill and Mrs.

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Niemeyer, 1217 W. Mark St., of the engagement of their daughter, Jean Helen, above, to Marvin W. Schafer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schafer, Utica, Minn. April 18 has been chosen as the wedding date.

Military Leaders To Be More Cautious

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The admirals and generals and high government officials will probably eat at home for a while.

Adm. Robert B. Carney certainly wish he hadn't gone to an off-the-record dinner with newsmen March 24. There's been indignation in Washington ever since.

President Eisenhower disagrees with what Carney is reported to have said. Carney denies he said what some reporters wrote that he said. And newsmen who were there can't agree among themselves on what he said.

As a result of this all-around fiasco, off-the-record dinners may cease for a while. Probably not for long though. Newsmen and high government officials have been getting together at them for years. The officials are the invited guests of the reporters. This is the purpose.

To get inside information which can be used in spot news stories or as background or preparation for events that unfold later.

Carney, although not named at first, was reported by some newsmen as saying the Red Chinese were expected to start an attack on the Matsu and Quemoy islands by mid-April. Others said he believed the Reds would simply be "capable" of such an attack by then or later. Carney's name soon leaked out.

While the country was still shocked by these stories indicating a nearness of war, another administration figure told newsmen at a similar dinner a few nights later the administration had no information on an impending attack.

According to the agreement, this source was not quoted as saying that in the stories which followed. Some of them said flatly Eisenhower had no such information. Some newspaper readers might have gotten the impression Eisenhower himself said that. Other newsmen wrote that "administration sources" said no attack was expected.

Several newspapers later said these stories stemmed from James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary.

Then Eisenhower had a public news conference. He appeared displeased with Carney. He said he had no information of an impending attack.

This week Carney denied to a Senate committee he had predicted an attack by mid-April. Some reporters who were at dinner with him then said he did make the prediction. Others said he didn't.

I have given you only the highlights of this remarkable conversation. I say remarkable because here was a man in a position to know, predicting an early termination of the war, contrary to all naval thinking at the time.

Whitney said, "This eye and ear witness account completely belies the (Forrestal) diary injected into the issue of responsibility for the Yalta decisions."

Forrestal's diary has been one of the main pieces of purported evidence that MacArthur pressed for Russia's entry into the Japanese war before Yalta.

The diary said MacArthur "felt that we should secure the commitment of the Russians to active and vigorous prosecution against the Japanese."

Morton, in his magazine article, wrote that MacArthur "stated emphatically at the time of Yalta to more than one visitor that American forces should not invade Japan until three months after the Red army attacked in Manchuria."

MacArthur also told visitors, Morton said, that he was "perfectly willing" to make concessions to get Russia into the war.

The Yalta conference was held in the Crimean Peninsula in February 1945. It was attended by Premier Joseph Stalin of Russia, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain.

Mother Marches Young Jail Escapee Back to His Cell

DYERSBURG, Tenn. (AP)—Jailer Frank Gregory sleepily answered the door early yesterday and was surprised to see young James Beard, firm in the grip of his mother.

He investigated and found that five of his Negro prisoners had battered through the jail wall under cover of a thunderstorm. Beard was one of them.

The escapees separated after sliding down a blanket rope from the second floor. Beard, 19, went home. His mother marched him right back to jail.

Opera Goes on After Frantic Hunt for Tenor

NEW YORK (AP)—About five hours before the curtain was to go up on Donizetti's "Don Pasquale" last night at the New York City Opera, here was the situation:

David Cunningham, scheduled to sing the role of Ernesto, was too ill to go on. His understudy Gilbert Russell had laryngitis. No other tenor in the company knew the part.

Then Salvatore Baccaloni, veteran comic basso of the Metropolitan Opera and an adviser to the City Center Theater presentation, remembered Constanza Gero, with whom he had made a cross-country tour four years ago.

A frantic hunt located Gero, American-born but raised in Italy. He agreed to go on although he hadn't sung the role in the intervening four years.

He got an ovation from the audience after his first aria.

Paint Cans Yield $10,000 in Opium

BALTIMORE (AP)—Paint cans with false bottoms yielded 10½ pounds of opium worth $10,000, federal agents said. They were searching for more opium in at least three other cities.

Arrested here were two officers in the merchant marine serving aboard the SS Andrew Jackson. They were identified as John J. Stauble, 27, Bridgeport, Conn., a radio operator, and Carl D. Adamire, 33, Hatfield, Pa., first mate.

Little Boy on Tiptoe Summons Fire Engines

ARCATA, Calif. (AP)—"What happens if you pull that handle?" the little boy asked the electrician making a routine check of fire alarm boxes yesterday.

"Why, all the fire trucks would come rushing right out here," answered Bill Donahue.

Ten minutes later they did. The little boy, not yet 3, was just barely able to reach that handle by standing on his shiny new red wagon.

Physicists Urge U.S. to Reject Plea of Russia

NEW YORK (AP)—Two physicists from this country say they were advised by government officials to turn down invitations to a Moscow scientific conference which concludes today.

Prof. Richard R. Feynman, of the California Institute of Technology, and Dr. Freeman J. Dyson, of the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, N.J., said yesterday they first accepted the Soviet invite. They said no "classified" matters were on the agenda of the Moscow meeting.

But, said Feynman, the Atomic Energy Commission advised him not to go, on the ground it would be an "unwarranted risk."

"There are several reasons why it may have been unwise for me to go," even though theoretical discussions might have been valuable on both sides," he said.

Feynman said he had done classified work on the atom bomb project during World War II, and recently consulted with the Army on a highly classified subject.

Dyson, a British citizen, said he first told the Russians he would attend the conference—which opened March 31—if he could obtain the necessary papers.

Later, he said, the immigration service informed him that even the granting of a re-entry permit to the United States would not guarantee he could get back in this country.

Showdown Coming In Formosa Strait

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Gen. Sun Li-jen says a showdown is coming soon in the Formosa Strait.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's personal chief of staff said in an interview, however, that this does not necessarily mean an imminent Communist Chinese invasion of Matsu or Quemoy islands.

He said the showdown will be touched off by the Communists' buildup of defenses along the south China coast. When that buildup is finished, he said, the Communists can challenge the present Nationalist and American air and surface superiority in the strait.

C. W. Ozier, 906 Gilmore Ave., returned Tuesday from a flight to Barbers Point, Hawaii, with other officers of the Naval Air Reserve making preparations for a fall training exercise. A lieutenant with the 8th Transportation Squadron, Ozier said the unit will provide logistical support for an Olathe, Kan. bombing squadron in the exercise.

Last year, the Navy inaugurated a program for reserve units to train overseas as a bomber squadron toured Europe. The 3-day stay in Hawaii included conferences with commander of the Pacific fleet to discuss feasibility and possibilities of staging the 2-week training exercise in August.

ALMA, Wis.—Gaylord L. McCabe, son of LaVerne D. McCabe, who operates the store at Tell, received his Air Force wings and commission as a second lieutenant during ceremonies this morning at the Harlingen (Tex.) Air Force Base. Lt. McCabe trained with the 3610th Aircraft Observer Training Wing.

Training in jet mechanics and other technical courses are now open to qualified young men, according to information received by S. Sgt. Al J. Schwalier, Winona Air Force recruiter.

The Air Force said that the technical training Air Force, a new sub-division of the Air Training Command, is charged with training men for 199 technical positions. A medium jet bomber wing alone includes 942 aircraft maintenance men. Jet engine mechanics are trained at the Amarillo (Tex.) Air Force Base while airplane mechanics are schooled at the Sheppard Air Force Base, Wichita Falls, Tex. Over a million technicians have completed technical Air Force courses in three years.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Sgt. Schwalier at Room 206 in the Winona Post Office.

Girl Pays $15 for Boy Friend's Kiss

OMAHA (AP)—When Omaha police saw Mason D. Wagner, 24, Council Bluffs, Iowa, kissing his fiancée while driving his car they decided it constituted reckless driving.

In Traffic Court, Judge Robert Nelson agreed and fined Wagner $15 and costs. Then the judge asked: "Was it worth it?"

Wagner merely smiled. Court officers said Wagner's fiancée paid the fine.

Judge Is Looking For Marilyn Monroe

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—They've got a warrant out for Marilyn Monroe in Beverly Hills. Municipal Judge Charles J. Griffin has been hoping to see the shapely blonde since soon after last Nov. 21, when she got a traffic ticket for driving without a license. She failed to appear in court to answer it.

Judge Griffin issued a warrant in February, setting bail at $100. Morris Brown, a Champaign, Ill., bail bondsman, posted it as a "friendly gesture." Yesterday Judge Griffin issued another warrant for her arrest and this time set bail at $250.

The station made several announcements during the night to give assurance that there was no emergency.

Milk at 12 Cents In Utah Price War

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—At least one major grocery chain said it would sell milk at 12 cents a quart when stores opened today—the fourth day of northern Utah's bitter milk price war.

The figure is 2 cents below what milk sold for yesterday and 9 cents under the price at which milk was selling before the war started Monday. Other retailers—in Salt Lake City, Provo and Ogden—were expected to follow suit.

Father and Son Banquet to Hear Boys Work Head

Loren M. Ness

The national director of boys work for the Brotherhood of the Evangelical Lutheran Church will speak at a father and son banquet at Central Lutheran Church at 6:15 p.m. next Wednesday.

Sponsored by the Brotherhood of Central, the banquet will be served by Circle D in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Loren M. Ness, who has been national director since 1947, will deliver the main address. He is a layman who promotes sponsorship through Lutheran churches of organized activities for boys such as scouting, 4-H club work and athletics. He is chairman of the Lutheran committee on 4-H award, which planned and administers an inter-Lutheran recognition award program for rural youth.

He is also director of the scout camp chaplaincy service for the Lutheran committee on scouting, which each summer assigns resident chaplains to a large number of Boy Scout council camps throughout the nation. He served as a district scout executive in Minneapolis for several years.

A graduate of Concordia College, Moorhead, Minn., Ness received his master's degree at the University of North Dakota in 1941.

BEDTIME STORIES

By HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggly was caught in a hard, wet, April shower. The rabbit gentleman, after first twinkling his pink nose, had set out from his hollow stump bungalow to look for an adventure.

Then, when he was more than a mile from home, suddenly, the rain began to fall.

"And the worst part of it is," said the rabbit gentleman to himself, as he felt the pelting drops, "the worst part of it is that the rain is falling down instead of up."

"Why would the April shower rain be better if it fell up instead of down?" asked a voice coming from a tree, under which Mr. Longears had hopped to take shelter from the shower.

Mr. Longears looked up. He saw Mr. Blue Jay perched on a branch. The bird did not mind the rain. His feathers were as good to him as a raincoat is to you.

"Why would the rain be better if it fell up instead of down?" asked Mr. Blue Jay again.

"Well, at least it would be different," answered the rabbit. He said that because he did not know how else to answer Mr. Blue Jay. Uncle Wiggly was not expecting anyone to ask him that question.

"Just because something is different, doesn't mean that it is better!" chattered the bird. "A worm might turn upside down, when I was pulling him out of the ground for my breakfast. But the ground would be no better because it was upside down, would it?"

"No, I suppose not," admitted

Uncle Wiggly. He was getting quite wet now. For the tree under which he was standing had no shelter in an April shower.

"I think you must give me a better answer, if you please," chattered Mr. Blue Jay, somewhat like the Lady Mouse Teacher of Hollow Tree School when one of her pupils did not make a good recitation.

"Why would the rain be better if it fell up instead of down?" asked the bird.

"Because then, only my hind paws would get wet and they would not get very wet because I am wearing shoes," answered the rabbit.

"That isn't a good reason," declared the bird. "If the rain fell up instead of down the water would run up your nose, Uncle Wiggly, and you would sneeze."

"My goodness me hum suz dud and a basket full of soap bubbles!" exclaimed Mr. Longears. "I never thought of that!"

"So you see the worst part of it is not that the rain falls down instead of up," chattered the bird. "Have you anything else to say, Uncle Wiggly?"

"Yes, I have, Mr. Blue Jay," answered the rabbit gentleman. "Another bad thing about this April shower is that I have no umbrella."

"Neither have I!" said Mr. Blue Jay. "You should wear feathers instead of fur, then you would not mind getting wet."

"That might be true," agreed the rabbit. "But I was born with fur instead of feathers and I must wear fur all my life. Can you think of any way to stop this rain?"

"No, I cannot," admitted Mr. Blue Jay. "No one can stop the rain. But it always stops all by itself if you wait long enough."

"How long shall I have to wait?" asked Mr. Longears. Rain, dripping from the tree, was now running down his left ear. "How long?"

"Don't ask me! I am going to look for a worm!" chattered Mr. Blue Jay. "Worms always come out in the rain. Do the best you can!"

"The best I can do is to run home, I think," said Mr. Longears, "and get an umbrella." So he hopped through the rain toward his hollow stump bungalow. Then, suddenly, the rain stopped and there was sunshine again.

"I guess I can keep on adventuring," said the rabbit. He turned around but, suddenly, the sun was hidden by a cloud. It began to rain harder than before.

"Oh, whatever shall I do?" exclaimed Mr. Longears.

"Come in here out of the rain!" answered a strange voice.

Who invited Uncle Wiggly in out of the rain? You can find out by reading tomorrow's story. And I hope the butter knife will spread some brown sugar on the molasses cookie to make it look like a chocolate cake going to sleep.

WHITEHALL CEMETERY

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—The annual meeting of the Old Whitehall Cemetery Association will be at the parish house of Our Saviour's Lutheran Church Saturday at 2 p.m.

North Central Slate Re-elected

All officers and directors of North Central Airlines which serves Winona with four flights daily were re-elected Wednesday and two new vice presidents were named in the company's annual meeting at Wausau, Wis.

Directors re-elected were Arthur E. A. Mueller, chairman, and Werner L. Christensen, both of Wausau; Hal N. Carr, Minneapolis; Garnet F. DeCoursey, Clintonville, Wis.; Robert F. Grover, Aurora, Ill.; A.L. Wheeler, Washington, D. C.; and Kenneth B. Willett, Stevens Point, Wis.

Following the stockholders meeting, the directors re-elected Carr president, Frank N. Buttomer vice president traffic and sales, Arthur E. Schwandt vice president industrial relations, and Bernard Sweet, secretary-treasurer. The new officers are Alvin D. Niemeyer, vice-president, operations, and R. H. Bendio, Sr., vice president, maintenance and engineering. Buttomer, Schwandt, Sweet and Niemeyer reside in St. Paul and Bendio in Minneapolis.

Following the meetings, North Central held a reception for stockholders in attendance and Wausau civic and business leaders.

Carr said the line has applied to the Civil Aeronautics Authority for permission to start helicopter service in the Milwaukee, Chicago, Minneapolis-St. Paul and Detroit metropolitan areas.

The Minneapolis man also told the annual meeting of stockholders that North Central had contracted to buy 96 per cent of Lake Central Airlines, which operates in eastern Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania.

North Central, he said, made a net profit of $111,707 in 1954, which he described as the line's most profitable year.

Four New Steps In Cancer Fight Made at U. of M.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

AP Science Reporter
MINNEAPOLIS (U.P.)—Four new steps in fighting cancers—three by X-rays and one by a hormone—were reported today by University of Minnesota scientists.

One X-ray step has produced some unexpectedly good results. It employs the cobalt "bomb," a chunk of radioactive cobalt only as big as four silver quarters piled atop one another. But it shoots out X-rays equal to those from a three-million-volt X-ray machine.

Two patients with widespread cancers hit by the cobalt beam are alive and apparently well a year later, said Dr. K. W. Stenstrom and Dr. Halvor Vermund, radiologists.

One young man had inoperable cancer which had started in part of the large intestine, then spread to the liver, lung and neck. Cobalt's X-ray beam on three separate occasions was shot into his abdomen, chest, then neck. He is as "healthy as anyone," a year later so far, back at work with his cancer apparently melted.

Other patients have not fared anywhere near so well. But the cobalt bomb offers some advantages over conventional X-ray machines, including less radiation sickness from damage to healthy tissues.

A second step is a still-secret chemical which may make cancers more vulnerable to X-rays than nearby healthy tissue. Cancer cells have a bigger appetite for this chemical, and thereby may become an easier pushover for X-rays. The drug has been given to only six patients so far, and it's too early to assess results. Stenstrom and Vermund told science writers on an American Cancer Society tour of research centers.

Third is evidence, from animal tests, that X-rays hitting normal tissues may make them more resistant to cancer growth, or to becoming seed beds for cancer cells wandering from the original cancer site.

Fourth is the hormone treatment of massive doses of cortisone, an adrenal gland hormone, for some women with advanced breast cancer. This puts some of the woman's own glands on an enforced vacation, and that can be very good, said Dr. B. J. Kennedy.

Of 30 women given this treatment for up to a year, almost all felt better, with less pain.

Michigan sold more than $500,000 worth of products from its state owned forests in 1954.

EASTER PANCAKES MAKE A STOUT SUNDAY BRUNCH

Mrs. Elmer Dimmick, Worcester (Mass.) Gazette Chapter, recommends Easter Pancakes With Golden Sauce, and we found it a stout late Sunday breakfast affair.

For the cakes:
1½ cups flour.
¼ teaspoon salt.
3 well-beaten eggs.
1½ cups milk.

Sift flour and salt together into a bowl. Beat eggs and milk well together, and stir into the flour and salt. Put ½ teaspoon butter into a 4½ inch frying pan, and pour in 2 tablespoons of batter. Cook first side, turn, and cook until nicely done. Repeat until batter is used up, and keep the cakes hot in the warming oven.

Make a ham stuffing, using:
2 cups finely chopped ham.
2 cups finely chopped spinach.
¼ pound grated Swiss cheese.
Salt and pepper to taste.

Mix well, and heat over hot water. Place about 2 tablespoons of ham stuffing on each cake, and roll up the cakes. Place on a hot platter, and pour over them the Golden Sauce, which is made this way:

1½ tablespoons butter.
3 tablespoons flour.
1½ tablespoons milk.
1 cup cream.
¼ cup grated Swiss cheese.

Melt butter, blend in flour, then milk. Stir cream in gradually, and cook until the mixture starts to thicken, then blend in the grated cheese, and stir until smoothly blended.

Spaghetti and meatballs a la Pereira—from Leonard J. Pereira, Buffalo Courier & Express Chapter. He uses:

7 quart home preserved tomatoes (or 1 No. 3 can plus 1 can tomato paste).

1 can tomato paste.
Crushed red peppers to taste.
Dash of salt and pepper.
Garlic salt and hot sauce (optional).

1 pound ground beef.
1 pound ground lean pork.
2 eggs.
2 cups bread crumbs.

1 cup diced onion.
Simmer tomatoes, tomato paste, red peppers for 30 minutes, seasoning to taste with salt and pepper, and if you like, a little garlic salt, and hot sauce. Combine beef, pork, eggs, bread crumbs, onion, with salt and pepper and some crushed red pepper, and form meatballs. Brown the balls in bacon fat, then add them to the simmering sauce, and let simmer 1½ hours more. Watch to see the mixture doesn't get too dry. You can thin it with tomato juice, or water.

Serve over spaghetti cooked as instructed, with a goodly supply of grated Parmesan or Romano cheese, and a green salad. "Gadi! I'm hungry!" vows Mr. Pereira.

Dropo's the Man Who Done Them (Card Hurlers) Wrong

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
Unless Eddie Stanky really is a changed man this season, $5 will get you $10 the scrappy little manager of the St. Louis Cardinals has his hands jammed in his hip pockets, staring bitterly at the ground and ripping the turf in short jabs with his spikes at the Little Rock ball park yesterday.

Harvey Haddix, his southpaw ace, and the struggling Vic Raschi were belted for a 13-3 decision by the Chicago White Sox.

It was pitching, or the lack of it, that outweighed the Cards' hitting power and scuttled them in sixth place last season. Haddix particularly had trouble. He was off to a bad start and then, after gaining his form, he was injured and lost his effectiveness again.

Spahn, Braves Hold the Tigers

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves eked out a 2-1 exhibition over Detroit Wednesday after Warren Spahn and Billy Hoeltz had locked horns in a tough pitching duel.

Spahn, the veteran southpaw, allowed three hits in seven innings. Hoeltz, the pride of Oshkosh, Wis., gave up only two hits during that time but one of them was Henry Aaron's towering homer, his fourth of the season.

The count was tied at 1-1 when both hurling stars left the game.

The Braves won in the eighth when Jack Dittmer, batting for Spahn, singled off George Zuverink. Bill Bruton sacrificed, Chuck Tanner walked and Eddie Mathews singled to put Dittmer on third.

Then reliable Andy Pafko lifted a sacrifice fly to send Dittmer over the plate with the decisive tally.

The Tigers counted in the first after two Milwaukee errors. With two out Mathews fumbled Al Kaline's grounder and Johnny Logan couldn't handle a hot one by Ray Boone. J. W. Porter doubled to score Kaline.

Joey Jay, following Spahn on the mound, allowed no hits in his two frames.

Detroit came close to scoring in the fourth. Bill Tuttle laced a triple with one out. But Danny O'Connell speared Red Wilson's liner and Hoeltz's grounder.

The Tigers boast quite a collection of Wisconsin players. In addition to Hoeltz they have Harvey Kuenn and Wilson, both of Milwaukee and the University of Wisconsin, and Jim Delsing of Rudolph, Wis.

The teams clash again today at Toledo in the final road exhibition for the Braves, who meet Cleveland Saturday and Sunday at Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The injury hoodoo that has run with Bobby Thomson, the Flying Scot, since he hooked up with the Milwaukee Braves threatened again today to keep him sidelined on opening day.

Thomson, pushing aside chances that 1953 will turn out like last year, said he'll "be ready to go" when the Braves open their home season against Cincinnati Tuesday at County Stadium. He looked forward to the coming campaign and said he wants "just a good year, for a change."

His immediate problem was an ailing right shoulder that brought him into town this week for examination and treatment by the team physician.

Thomson came to the Braves in the winter deal a year ago that sent Johnny Antonelli to the Giants. He fractured his right ankle in Florida in the 1954 spring drills and was out of the lineup until late in the season. Even when he returned he saw only limited action.

DENVER (AP)—The Harlem Globetrotters and the College All Stars make their annual stop here tonight for a game at Denver Coliseum.

The All Stars led all the way to win their fifth game in 14 starts Wednesday night as they defeated the Globetrotters, 76-72, at Iowa City, Iowa.

The All Stars were paced by Chuck Mencil and Jack Stephens, each with 23 points.

Yanks' Larsen Feels Encouraged

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Don Larsen, bothered by a sore arm after coming to the New York Yankees in the winter trade with Baltimore, pitched 20 minutes of batting practice Wednesday and said the arm felt good. He was slapped for a game-winning double by the only hitter he's faced in an exhibition game this spring.

Syracuse vs. Fort Wayne at Indianapolis. (Final best-of-7 series tied, 2-2.)

Common Ailment: Pull—In golf it's a chronic fault to "pull across the ball." The left arm, instead of following on out after the ball is hit, is pulled in sharply to retard the swing. The "pull" is just as common in bowling, except, of course, the ball-holding right arm is the culprit. As sketch shows, the arm is pulled abruptly to the left, like the left arm in golf; the swing is retarded, and the ball either drives high on the head pin or it crosses over to the left side. Correction: Relax completely. After pushing the ball away with the first step, let the ball drop full weight into the downward-backward swing. Feel its weight all the way. And swing through. Don't be over-eager to hit the 1-3 strike pocket. Swing out, making the No. 3 pin your target. Concentrate on it. Should you miss the head pin two or three times to the right, simply release the ball a board or two farther to the right and the added angle will put you in the pay-off strike pocket.

Del Spots Weight Edge to Al Andrews

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Boxing attention will be focused on St. Paul Thursday night, April 14, when Del Flanagan meets Al Andrews in the main event of another ring program marking a revival of boxing in St. Paul.

The battle will be a "weight fight" since Flanagan must spot Andrews between 6 to 10 pounds. Del's best fighting weight is just above the welterweight limit of 147 pounds, while Andrews is in best condition at 158 pounds.

The match is attracting nationwide interest. The possibility of future bouts for both fighters depends on the outcome.

From the viewpoint of some local observers, the bout is rated as a bad one for Flanagan, since he has more to lose than gain—aside from the $5,000 guarantee and privilege of 25 per cent of the gate given to each fighter.

Del needed the best part of a year to build the ring favoritism he now enjoys in his home town. In that period he grossed better than $10,000 for the four fights he won in succession against Billy Pinkus, Bob Rossi, Emil Evans and Johnny Bratton.

He risks his newly-won local support in the Andrews mix. Here are some of the points of interest on the fight:

• Andrews, who moved to St. Paul a few months ago from his native Oliver, Wis., has made a vow to supplant Flanagan as a St. Paul favorite since he (Andrews) intends to make this city his home.

• Despite the actions of Flanagan here recently in scoring a TKO over Johnny Bratton, ex-king of the welterweights, some have made Andrews an early favorite because of the weight advantage.

• Some local observers contend Flanagan's brilliant boxing skill will easily surpass the rugged slugging ability of Andrews and that Del's superb condition, attained while training for Bratton, will carry him to a decision over Andrews.

The fight will start at 9 p.m. in the St. Paul Auditorium.

Boosters teams take up most of the action the rest of the week.

The singles division drew most of the fire Wednesday with six changes, highlighted by 704 by Dave Moffat, a Chicago bowling alley manager. Moffat took second place, behind Eddie Gerzine of Milwaukee, who leads with a 738. Gerzine also heads the all events with 1,938.

The day's best all-around performance was by Morris Oppenheim, a 200-pound 18-year-old college student of Chicago, who drew within eight pins of Gerzine's all events lead with a 1,930 total on series of 653, 633, and 644.

A teammate of Oppenheim, Carl Berger, former star with the famed Monarch Beer teams, crashed into fourth place in the all events with an 1,879 total and seventh in the singles with a 684 effort. The pair also had a 1,226 in doubles, good for 13th place.

Oppenheim and Berger led the Cole Finner-Mercury Quintet to the top of the team standings Tuesday with a 3,015 total to tie Howard's Clothes, of St. Paul, Minn., who held it alone since opening night.

Other singles changes were: Anthony Zarembo, Grand Rapids, Mich., took fourth with a 684; Albert Baugert, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., grabbed fifth with 689; and Richard George, Anchorage, Alaska, gained sixth with 685.

In the all events, Jim Lawson, noted ski jumper of Ishpeming, Mich., stepped into the fifth slot with an 1,870 performance, capped by a 671 series.

There were two changes in the doubles as Fred Waczula and John Weiner, of Middletown, Ohio, combined for a 1,241 total and fourth place while Joe Szymanski and Sherm Peters, of Toledo, Ohio, slipped right behind in fifth with 1,235.

A Wisconsin entrant, Lemerone Barn, of Green Bay, grabbed off the 10th spot in the team standings on the late shift Wednesday night with a 2,907 score, featured by a 1,035 in the final game.

Jack Baum and Andy Hudoba, of Youngstown, Ohio, held their doubles lead with 1,270.

TOMAH BOXER NAMED
MADISON (AP)—Everett (Butch) Chambers, rugged 165 pounder from Tomah, was elected captain of the 1956 University of Wisconsin boxing team Tuesday night.

Billy Hildebrandt, assistant coach at the University of Minnesota, will be the main speaker.

300 Expected for Lake City Dinner
LAKE CITY, Minn.—A crowd of between 200 and 300 persons is expected to attend the annual Lake City prep athletic banquet here Monday night.

The banquet is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. in the Lincoln High School auditorium. Sponsored by the Lake City Chamber of Commerce, the banquet is open to the public.

Billy Hildebrandt, assistant coach at the University of Minnesota, will be the main speaker.

Tiger Jones Saves Money For Future

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones, scrappy Brooklyn middleweight, isn't going to be caught short when he returns from the ring.

The 27-year-old boxer, who takes on George Johnson in a nationally televised 10-rounder at the St. Louis Arena Friday night, finds a place for his ring earnings.

Jones, who turned pro in 1950, said he invested the first $20,000 he made into a trust for him and his family. His wife expects a baby next month, their first.

Then his next $10,000 went to buy a farm for his father in Virginia. Another $10,000 made a substantial down payment on a Long Island home.

Jones, who will get a $4,000 slice from TV receipts on Friday's fight, quipped when talking of the expected baby:

"Gotta put something away for the little one, you know."

Drzewiecki Signs Pact With Bears

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Ron Drzewiecki, ranked as the greatest ball carrier in Marquette football history, has rejected a Canadian offer from Calgary and has signed with the Chicago Bears.

The 185-pound halfback was the Bears No. 1 choice in the National Football League player draft last January.

Drzewiecki has been quoted as saying Calgary had offered him a two-year pact at $11,000 per season. The terms of the Bear contract were not disclosed but is believed to call for about $9,000.

Nevada Sanctions Moore-Valdes Mix

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Nevada's Athletic Commission has given official sanction to the May 2 fight between light heavyweight champion Archie Moore and Nino Valdez.

Moore's appearance was okayed despite the California Athletic Commission's warning that Moore will not be granted a license to fight again in that state because of the report of his private physician that he has a heart murmur that indicates strenuous exertion might be hazardous.

Houston Wins as Texas League Opens

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Texas league off to a rousing start Wednesday night with defending champion Houston among the winners but Shreveport, the 1954 full season leader, taking a terrific beating from Dallas.

San Antonio took a 6-2 victory over Oklahoma City and Dallas which was supposed to lack power but have airtight defense, smashed 15 hits and made four errors in clubbing Shreveport, 13-2.

Houston set back Tulsa, 6-1, and Beaumont captured an 8-2 victory over Fort Worth.

Braves Advance Units Arrive at Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Advance units of the Milwaukee Braves planned to take over County Stadium today for an unofficial workout while the team played its last on-the-road exhibition.

Pitchers Dave Jolly, Warren Spahn, Gene Conley, Lew Burdette and Ernie Johnson, arrived home ahead of the team Wednesday night.

The squad was at Toledo today, against Detroit, for the final game away from home. A Saturday and Sunday series here against Cleveland closes the Braves' exhibition season.

TABBING THE MAJORS

Youthful Detroit 'Coming' Ball Club

By JACK HAND
LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Bucky Harris takes over a "coming" ball club at Detroit where a youth movement is about ready to pay off in first division dividends.

Shortstop Harvey Kuenn, outfielders Al Kaline and Bill Tuttle and catcher Frank Horne already have made the grade. Harris thinks J. W. Porter will make it in left field and counts on solid pitching help from a crop of hard-throwing rookies.

"Everybody seems to think it's between Boston and us for fourth place," said Harris. "I think we've got a good chance of beating out Boston and, if Chicago stubs its toe, we could move up into third."

"If Ferris Fain is sound, our infield will be all right. I would like to come up with Bucky Harris, a good, solid utility infielder and the front office is trying to buy one. As it is now, we've just got to hope nobody gets hurt."

"I've got five kid pitchers who can really throw hard," said Harris with enthusiasm. "All of them won't make the jump from the minors this year, of course, but I don't see how they all can miss. I may go north with as many as 15 pitchers."

The five Harris mentioned were Frank Lary (15-11 at Buffalo), Bill Froats (7-5 at Buffalo), Duane Maas (11-3 at Wilkes-Barre and 7-4 at Buffalo), Paul Foytack (4-7 at Buffalo) and Bill (Bud) Black, just back from the Army after losing his only game in two years at Ft. Leonard Wood in Missouri. All are righthanders except Froats, who reminds Bucky of Joe Page, his Yankee relief ace of 1947.

Lary, 24, probably will take a place in the starting rotation with Ned Garver (14-11), Steve Gromek (18-16) and Billy Hoeltz (7-15). Hoeltz, however, may be demoted to relief status. The other starting job has been set aside for Bob Miller, the lefthanded bonus baby of 19 who has made Harris' eyes pop.

Ray Herbert (3-6), George "Sink-er Ball" Zuverink (9-13) and Al Aber (5-11) will handle the relief work. Bob Schultz (18-11 at New Orleans) also looks good.

Kuenn (30-20) and Ray Boone (29-5) are set at short and third. The 24-year-old Kuenn gathered 201 hits last year in his second big league season, and Boone, the Cleveland discard, hit 20 homers and knocked in 85 runs as the All-Star third baseman. Fred Hatfield (29-4), who never had held down a regular job in the majors, is the second baseman.

Behind Fain, the Tigers have ex-Dodger Wayne Belardi (23-8) and Jack Phillips, the former Pirate and Yankee who was the most valuable player in the Pacific Coast League off a 300 year at Hollywood in '54. Bonus boy Reno Bertoia (16-2) is the other infielder sure of a job.

The outfield is the real solid strength of the Tigers' youth program. Kaline (.276) is going into his third big league season at the age of 20. He has tremendous speed and a fine arm. Tuttle (.226) made it last year in center.

Porter is the fair-haired boy of the training season, a possibility for rookie of the year. Converted from catcher to outfield, the former St. Louis Brownie prize has nailed down the left field job. He's 25 and just back from two years in the Army. John (Bubba) Phillips, another returning serviceman, may give Tuttle a scramble if he can hit. Jim Belsing (.248) also is available.

House (.250) and Bob Wilson (.274) will handle the catching, perhaps alternating against right and lefthanded pitching.

HE WENT THAT-A-WAY . . . Sammy Walker, right, seems to be groping for his opponent, Charley Cotton, who is behind him upside down. Cotton took a wild swing in the sixth round of their welterweight bout at Miami, Fla., and when Walker ducked Cotton went over his back onto the canvas on his face. Despite his embarrassing position here, Cotton was the winner on a technical knockout in final round of the 10-round bout. (AP Wirephoto)

SPORTS ROUNDUP

History Against Giants Repeating

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—Having decided to take a fearless stand and choose the New York Giants to win their league again, because we believe they have the solid strength to do it, we got to reflecting that there probably are six Little Leaguers in our block who could do as skillful a job of experting.

It was a depressing thought. In other words, if all a man can do after a month of diligent snooping through the training camps is pick the defending world champion, then shouldn't he maybe hand in his union card and try something else? Any fool knows that a ball club, having won last year, should be able to win again. It's only common logic.

Or is it? Out of curiosity, and possibly feeling some sense of guilt at not having the nerve to pick Cincinnati and take a shot at immortality, we have been looking back through the pages of the National League since the year of its inception, 1876. And now we feel a good deal better.

Actually in going out on a limb for Leo Durocher's beauties, we are being bolder than we had intended.

The odds against a National League club repeating are only slightly less than 2-1. That is, in the long history of the senior loop, only just over half the teams which came from somewhere below to win, as the Giants did last season, have been able to repeat the following year. Fellows, this is going to be rough.

The precise figures are as follows: 33 times a National League outfit has charged up to be a proud champion one year and fallen back the next. Only 18 times has the newcomer had the stamina to stay there for a second helping, or more.

Baltimore's Miller Says Arm Feels Tops

GRAHAM, N. C. (AP)—One inning doesn't make a season, but southpaw Bill Miller of the Baltimore Orioles was mighty happy after pitching one inning against the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday.

"I never threw the ball that hard, even when I had a good arm," Miller said after hurling the ninth inning to preserve a 3-2 Baltimore victory. He struck out the last two men with a runner on second.

The 27-year-old ex-New York Yankee sat out the 1954 season with an ailing arm. Miller said he threw nothing but fast balls Wednesday.

REYNOLDS RETIRED
NEW YORK (AP)—Allie Reynolds, star pitcher, was officially placed on the voluntary retired list by the New York Yankees.

"How COULD I signal when I was putting my make-up on?"

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGUM, D. Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes, if the couple is young and healthy. Thousands marry every year on shoestrings; yet, studies show, after years of married life and financial struggles, 85 per cent state they are "unqualifiedly happy." Studies show it is not the amount of income but differences about spending it that makes marriage troubles. Our booklet, "Facing the Facts of Married Life," will help with budget problems. Nonprofit, 15c (coin only) and self-addressed, stamped envelope. Send to Dr. A. E. Wiggum, care of The Winona Daily News.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Psychologist M. R. Feinberg studied percentages of "onlies" among 2,000 boys, 13 to 16, who were chosen as seatmates by other boys. Onlies from upper economic homes were less often chosen, but from middle and lower homes, onlies were chosen as often as other boys. Perhaps in richer homes only boys are pampered and not taught sociability.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Arnold Bennett, in his famous book, "Living on 24 Hours a Day," says all great workers he had known had four habits. They never hurried, were always on time, worked calmly and methodically, and always had time for unexpected jobs that came up. When I was a boy, I worked with a chemist in a sugar factory who hardly seemed to move at all, but he got more work done than any man I ever knew. He's living and working at 89. Worth imitating.

Those Responsible for Forest Fire Hunted

RALEIGH, N.C. (U.P.)—Forestry officers today hunted the people who touched off a giant forest fire in eastern North Carolina. The fire was brought under control yesterday after burning some 200,000 acres. Asst. State Forester Paul W. Tillman said it was deliberately set. It broke out by Lake Phelps in Tyrrell County March 30 and swept 20 miles, burning into Hyde and Washington counties.

FAIRLY SPOKEN

By MARGARET LATROBE

A gentleman scribe recently admitted finding himself in hot water with feminine readers for remarking that no lady older than 16 should try to wear a wide-brimmed picture hat. It just goes to show that men, however discerning, will never know much about women. (Honey lamb, every single gal on earth thinks her profile is a knock-out in the face-framing millinery. And the older she gets, the wider the hat, the better she looks. So!) It also goes to show that no columnist ever knows when the bells will ring in readers' heads, or why they rang so loudly. My friend and adviser, the late Erich Brandeis whose column was widely syndicated for years, said the most mail he ever received about a single column was about popovers. He had written that his wife, a talented and gracious lady, had only one failing. She couldn't make popovers. And before the ink had dried on the early edition, mail began coming. From everywhere came recipes, advice, warnings, shrill-toned admonition against eating popovers at all, and just as many congratulations on his expressed desire to consume more of the delicacy. Billy Rose once mentioned that his simple dissertation on the famous doctor brought response from the four corners by the 14-ton truckload. This column was reprinted, and still he was swamped with requests for copies. For all I know they may even have made a movie of it. Newspaper folk may spend hours or weeks turning a phrase, doing research for a single sentence, drinking pots of coffee far into the night trying to make one offering perfect—their best possible work. With visions of grateful letters to the editor in mind, off it goes to press. And the mail? There ain't any. Either everybody went fishing that day or it wasn't run. Nobody got the message. Then you toss off a light breezy comment on feather beds, bathing suits or Zsa Zsa, Gaboon—it hits a nerve, the lights flash, and the mailman comes tottering up the steps with letters from all over. But whatever it is that causes people to write—we like it. Agreement or disagreement, it is welcome home, happy days, good news. Even though they take you apart and stitch you together with a dull needle. Best of all—and this is merely human—are those letters written by the kindest people in the world, the ones who say you did a good one, they liked it. There are a lot of folks like that, and to them all—thanks. Wonder if there is anything new with popovers? Feather beds we have done, already.
